

Paracelsus Of The Chymical Transmutation, Genealogy and Generation of Metals & Minerals. Also, Of the Urim and Thummim of the Jews. With an Appendix, of the Vertues and Use of an excellent Water made by Dr. Trigge. The second Part of the Mumial Treatise. Whereunto is added, Philosophical and Chymical Experiments of the famous Philosopher Raymund Lully ; Containing, The right and due Composition of both Elixirs, The admirable and perfect way of making the great Stone of the Philosophers, as it was truly taught in Paris, and sometimes practised in England, by the said Raymond Lully, in the time of King Edw. 3. Translated into English by R. Turner φιλομαθης. London, Printed for Richard Moon at the seven Stars, and Hen : Fletcher at the three gilt Cups in Paul's Church-yard. 1657.

8vo. 4 leaves, 166 pp.

Sudhoff, No. 379.
Bolton I, 1022.

A rare and curious collection : it is unexpected to find such a mélange with the advertisement for Dr. Trigge's Water in the middle. The translator, Robert Turner was a well-known astrologer and botanist who translated several occult works as well as issuing The British Physician which was chiefly devoted to the medicinal virtues of various herbs. He dedicated the present work to William Backhouse (1593-1662) who devoted his time to the study of occult sciences and became renowned as an alchemist, rosicrucian and astrologer and who gave great encouragement to those addicted to similar pursuits and especially to Elias Ashmole whom he adopted as his son and to whom he imparted all his secrets.

Sudhoff, No. 464.

This is a reprint of an edition which appeared at Amsterdam in 1771 ; it is not certain if it was printed in the same year. The book is not by Paracelsus. It contains 157 alchemical rules, translated from the " Regulae seu Canons aliquot Philosophici de Lapide Philosophico " contained in Bernard Georges Penot's book "Paracelsi centum quindecim curationes experimentaque, e Germanico idiomate in Latinum versa." (Lyon) 1582. (Sudhoff No. 190).

First Edition.

Caillet 8338.

Brunet IV, 375, & Suppl. No. 2270 (under "Théologie : Déistes et Incrédules").

This book was suppressed shortly after publication, although it is dedicated "A Dieu Seul," and has, after this dedication, a letter to Louis XIV. On p. (3) of the preface, the author asks the reader not to be shocked by the frequent occurrence of chemical terms, such as Salt, Mercury, Sulphur, etc. In fact, these chemical terms occur frequently throughout the book. On account of its suppression, the book is certainly rare. My copy is on large, thick paper, and bound in contemporary red morocco, richly gilt, and with the arms, on both covers, of Marie-Anne-Christine-Victoire de Bavière (d. 1690), wife of Louis Dauphin, the only son of Louis XIV; bindings with her arms are extremely rare.

Sm. 8vo. Pp. xii, 250, (2). With engraved frontispiece, representing the Economical Laboratory of Guyton de Morveau and the Chemical Characters of Hassenfratz & Adet, S. Springsguth sculp.

Bolton only mentions the 4th edition, and an American reprint of the second.

The author, a surgeon in Hoxton, is best known for his " Organic Remains of a Former World."

PARNASSE.

Le Parnasse Assiéé ou la Guerre Déclarée Entre les Philosophes Anciens & Modernes. A Lyon, Chez Antoine Boudet, rue Mercière. 1697. Avec permission.

12mo. Pp. (14), 140, (8, 2 blank).

This work was unknown to Ferguson but is recorded by Caillet (No. 8341). It is a very curious effusion in which the author attempts to prove the reality of the Hermetic Science and the correctness of the views of Paracelsus. It remained unknown to Sudhoff.

PARNELL (Edward Andrew).

Dyeing and Calico-Printing. Reprinted from Parnell's Applied Chemistry in Manufactures, Arts and Domestic Economy. 1844. London, Taylor, Walton & Maberly. 1849.
